CFID Undergraduate Summer Research Awards 2023

CFID is pleased to announce the CFID Undergraduate Summer Research Awards program for 2023. The goals of this program are to attract bright young minds to the field of infectious diseases, microbiology and infection control, and to fulfill the CFID mission of supporting research in infectious diseases.

The Undergraduate Summer Research Awards specifically target undergraduate students who plan to conduct summer research in the form of a research project, research elective or co-op work-term opportunity.

Each award is funded for $5,000 for a 12-13 week research term. Adjudication is by a selection committee and will be competitive based on academic achievement, research potential or experience, and mentor acceptance.

Student awardees are required to submit a summary report within 4 weeks of the termination of their project and are encouraged to submit a poster or oral presentation about their work at the subsequent AMMI Canada – CACMID Annual Conference.

NOTE: Duplicate applications to AMMI Canada and CFID are not permitted by CFID
